

CHAPTER 69-02-08
MEETINGS

Section
69-02-08-01 Generally

69-02-08-01. Generally. The commission must conduct open meetings at which the public may attend but will not be permitted to participate. The agenda for each open meeting will be made available in advance of the session. Items may be added to, or stricken from, the agenda without further notice. Public documents relating to the items on the agenda may be examined in the commission offices. As permitted by law, the commission may conduct closed meetings to consider quasi-judicial proceedings, which include major rate cases and certificate proceedings for transmission lines and energy conversion plants. The commission will continue to report the results of these deliberations in written opinions and orders resolving each case.
