COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR EDWARD T. SCHAFER

I hereby return unsigned and veto Senate Bill 2201, requiring a notary public to purchase a bond from a bonding company and eliminating the option of obtaining a personal surety against a potential claim.

About six percent of notary publics in North Dakota currently use personal sureties. In many instances, particularly in rural areas where bonding companies are not always present and doing business, personal sureties are a practical alternative to a bonding requirement. I am also concerned that if no alternative to a bond exists, the cost of notary bonds may increase.

As I am unaware that the current law has created any problems for North Dakota notaries, I respectfully veto SB 2201.
