3. If the city does not receive a response from an affected county or school district within thirty days of delivery of the letter, the county and school district must be treated as participating in the property tax incentive.

NOMINATIONS FOR INTERIM PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

SENATOR SCHAIBLE: Mr. President, it is a great honor for me to nominate my friend Senator Dave Oehlke as President Pro Tempore for the 65th legislative interim session. His daily weather reports and his joy for life has been a real bright spot here in the far-right corner of the senate.

Dave was elected to the senate in 2006 and has served on Government and Veteran Affairs, Finance and Tax, and served one session of vice chairman and two sessions as chairman of Transportation Committee. Now, his services are needed on Appropriations committee where he took a pay cut to serve. Senator Oehlke is a 2007 Build leadership alum and has served on legislative management.

Dave and his lovely wife, Vicki, of 47 years resides in Devils Lake, ND, and have raised two children and enjoys their four grandchildren and one great grandchild. Senator Oehlke sells insurance as a trade, but his passion is service to community and our youth. As Scoutmaster for 22 years and a founding member of Lake Region Search and Rescue his dedication and sacrifice for others is a shining example of his leadership skills. Sacrificing of one's time and effort for training and being available for the needs of others 24 hours a day is a real example of his character, but when these rescues turn into a retrieval the respect to the victim and treatment of the family in these difficult time takes a level of exceptional compassion for our fallow man.

We have all heard of man's best friend, but when it comes to Kinsey, his extremely large fur ball it's obvious that dog's best friend is Dave Oehlke.

Dave's calm demeanor and his relaxed attitude reflexes his attitude about life. It does not matter how frantic or confusing it get around here, he projects that everything will be OK and we will get through this. He is a true leader and his real ambition is people. When Senator Oehlke is asked, "What is the best part of the senate?", his answer is all the other senators that he has served with.

I cannot think of a better person to serve as the President Pro Tempore. One that will serve with integrity and respect for every person and every issue.

Mr. President, it is my honor to nominate Senator Dave Oehlke for President Pro Tempore.

SENATOR NELSON: Mr. President, our usual President of the Senate, Lt. Gov. Sanford, entered this chamber in a leadership role with no prior experience in the Senate, and he has done well. I propose that another new member of the chamber be elected President Pro Tempore.

Sen. Merrill Piepkorn was first elected to office a few years ago when he was elected junior class president at Fargo North High School. "Hear it Now", he did a great job in that capacity. North High is still acclaimed as a superior high school. "Hear it now", he probably would not be your best golf partner as he is left handed and he can only count to 5 on his toes. Now, if you want entertainment, Sen. Piepkorn is your person. He is very outgoing and that sometimes causes us some concerns, but his caucus understands him. Sen. Piepkorn is the voice of Dakota Datebook currently heard three times a week on public radio. We learn a lot of history from those snippets.

Sen. Piepkorn is great at multi-tasking. Last Sunday, some of us observed him playing guitar and harmonica, and singing. His talents are many and we should channel them for the good of the Senate.

As you ride home tomorrow, be sure to listen to "Main Street", formerly known as "Hear it Now", and hear Dakota Datebook (3:00-4:00) and learn a few new things about the great state of North Dakota. Of course, be sure you cruise at less than 90 mph, buckle your seatbelts, and have a wonderful Easter weekend with your families.

Mr. President, I am pleased to nominate Sen. Merrill Piepkorn to be the President Pro Tempore.

REMARKS OF SENATOR PIEPKORN

MR. PRESIDENT: To quote the last freshman Senator of the minority party who was nominated for this prestigious position, "I must say, I am shocked at the outcome of this election." Not even my hometown connections I share with two of the front row Senators with Stanley roots, the senators from District 4 and 6, are strong enough to sway even their vote. I'm sorely disappointed, but, will somehow persevere. Perhaps, I'll make it through this dark valley of depression I am currently experiencing with the aid of Medical Marijuana. Hopefully the good Doctor from District 47 can write me out a prescription, excuse me, a recommendation, before he retires from this body at the end of the session.

On another note, I thought that perhaps introducing the word obfuscate into our dialogue on the floor would be enough to sway the intellectuals on the other side of the aisle to vote for me. Never mind I had to look up the meaning of the word before I used it!

That said, a hearty congratulations to my worthy opponent and victor in this contest, the Senator from District 15. You North Dakota historians will recall that perhaps the most important member of the Lewis and Clark Corps of Discovery was a dog, the noble, big, black Newfoundland named Seaman, who guided the Corps through many a harrowing situation. Fortunately for Senator Oehlke, he has two Newfoundlands, Riggley and Kenzie to guide him back and forth between Bismarck and Devils Lake. On a recent trip traveling without them, he made a wrong turn coming out of the Coffee Cup in Steele and it took him three days to get turned around. However, if you get lost on Devils Lake while searching for the elusive trophy walleye, as a member of the water search and rescue team, he will come find you, and if you've fallen out of your boat, he'll send Riggley and Kenzie in to rescue you.

I will say that as a new member of the Senate Choir, I came into my first rehearsal a little late and they were already singing. I heard one voice, strong and clear, steadily holding the note. I sought that voice out because I needed a solid reference point in the choir. Yes, it was Senator Oehlke. Now, he doesn't have perfect pitch but as we say in the business, "It's close enough for country".

In spite of those things I've just mentioned, and because of his outstanding leadership qualities and he's friendly and extremely reliable, 99.9% of the time, I'm honored to move the Senate cast a unanimous ballot for Senator Dave Oehlke as President Pro Tempore.

MOTION

SEN. PIEPKORN MOVED that the Senate cast a unanimous ballot for Senator Oehlke as Interim President Pro Tempore, which motion prevailed.

MOTION

SEN. KLEIN MOVED that a committee of two be appointed to escort the newly elected Interim President Pro Tempore Oehlke to the rostrum, which motion prevailed.

The President Pro Tempore appointed Sens. Unruh and Poolman.

OATH OF OFFICE

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE ADMINISTERED the Oath of Office to Interim President Pro Tempore Oehlke.

REMARKS OF INTERIM PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE OEHLKE

MR. PRESIDENT: Good afternoon Senators, thank you for the appointment. Senator Piepkorn, thank you for the rousing speech.

I should clear up, I have one dog, Kenzie, and my son has the other, Riggley, but most of the time they're working together.

I have some flowers on my desk over there. I don't know if you noticed that, but they came with a card from my wife, Vicki, who isn't here today because she is working and didn't want to drive that far again. She was here earlier in the week and sent a card along with, and I thought you'd like to know, it states, "Dave, so very proud of you.", and this is the key sentence, "You are the greatest." Just in case you didn't know.

Senator Schaible, thank you for the nomination speech. It was heartfelt, and I turned around and told him, "You know it brought a tear to my eye." I don't think he believed me, but it truly did, so thank you. There's two other people in this chamber right now that came into the Senate in 2007 for their first session when I did, Senator Marcellais and Senator Heckaman. We're still here. I remember our first session on GVA together, Senator Marcellais. We had a great experience and learning experience there. I found out that Senator Marcellais was related to just about everybody that testified in front of us. When I mentioned that to him one day he stated that "We are all brothers." So we started greeting each other as Brother just about every time we see each other and still do to this day. People will look at us kind of funny in the hallway once in a while because we're not exactly twins.

I would like to share, in case some of you don't know there's something called the Senate Journal. This is one year's compilation of everything that happened in the Senate, believe it or not, in 2007. That's the first year I was in the Senate so my wife thought it would be a good idea if I brought this book and read from it. She stated that you could go "Page one", but you can see that we would be here an awfully long time so I won't do that. She thought it would be a great joke and so she has a sense of humor as well.

There is something that was mentioned when Senator Schaible spoke about the Search and Rescue Team. This is the message I would like to give you today. We started our Search and Rescue Team in 1981. After a little bit of diving experience and training we realized quickly that we needed to learn more. So we went off to learn more and more, and get more training on diving, dive rescue, swift water rescue, and ice dive training. Most scuba divers like ice dive training about as much as they like rattlesnakes. It's not our favorite thing, but, especially in the world we live up here in North Dakota, it becomes a big part of our activities in the winter time. We train for ice diving but you can never train for those experiences when it's really needed. Such as, in a vehicle that goes through the lake, someone that might need rescuing, or perhaps, even just searching for someone who possibly fell through and we don't know exactly where they are. There's something in dive rescue we call a backup diver. A backup diver is a person who is there, ready, geared up, and ready to go for the person that's under the ice diving. We cut a hole in the ice, or many times if the vehicle went through there's already a hole there, so we have to tether the first diver to a rope. That diver goes in and goes out into the wreckage scene in order to accomplish the rescue and they do dive patterns. When the person is on a rope there's signals they can give back and forth with the rope. One jerk and one jerk back from the diver means I'm still here. Two jerks from the line tender is go the other way, and you control that diver back and forth as the line tender. Three jerks mean I found the object or what I need. Four jerks or more means I'm in trouble or I need help. That's when the backup diver becomes pretty important, because when you feel those four jerks the backup diver doesn't really know what the problem is. The other diver could have come off his rope, it might have been cut, he might be entangled on something, or he might just need help with the object. You're not really sure, but the backup diver is on another rope and goes down to seek out the first diver to either aide or help him., whatever it may be. The coolest thing about being a backup diver is that is probably the person you depend on the most. It is so comforting for someone who is a backup diver to have that first diver go in the water and right before they go under they look back to make sure you're there to know they can depend on you no matter what. That feeling for the backup diver is wonderful. It's also wonderful for the diver going down to know that guy is going to come and help him no matter what.

I told my constituents back home that "I'm your backup diver. I'm here for you.", and when I sit in the Senate, and have sat in the Senate for now my sixth session, I'm finding we are all backup divers for each other as well. It becomes only more important and critical when it gets down to the end of the session. So I'm your backup diver and I hope you can feel that I am for each and every one of you when it's really critical and important. Each and every one of you should be able to look around and know that your fellow Senators are backup divers for you as well. I know I have learned over the few sessions I have been here that is the case.

And by the way, the first Majority Leader that I had when I came in the Senate was Senator Bob Stenehjem. About this time of the session he said, "Look around. The faces are going to change before you come back in two years." I would encourage you to do that, it is certainly true. Look to your left, look to your right, look around the Senate. Things will change before we get back here in two years. Right now, let's get to work.
