TRIBAL AND STATE RELATIONSHIP ADDRESS

January 3, 2019

Myra Pearson

Chairwoman, Spirit Lake Tribe

My name is Myra Pearson, Chairwoman for the Spirit Lake Tribe. As this is to be my last state of the Tribes address I would like to take this opportunity to reflect on the past progress we have made, discuss some of the obstacles we have encountered and stress the importance of fostering a strong Tribal/State relationship.

In recent years North Dakota and the Tribes located within the state have been the focus of national attention due in large part to the oil boom. As an emerging leader in the energy industry our state and tribes have finally emerged from anonymity to national leaders in the energy sector. Of course, not all of the national attention has been positive. To that end it is important that we learn from both our negative and positive experiences while we forge new and stronger relationships.

In my years of public service, I have had the great pleasure of serving alongside many great tribal leaders. I am thankful for those who came before me such as Alyce Spotted Bear from Twin Buttes District, MHA Nation. Alyce Spotted Bear was a political leader who for years served as a role model for people like myself and I am grateful for her wisdom, leadership and mentorship. Building off of the paths forged by such women it has been a privilege to watch as 2018 saw many more women, and particularly native women stepping forward into public service. Although female leadership has been strong within Indian Country, on the national political front we witnessed leaders like Sharice Davids (Ho-Chunk), Deb Haaland (Laguna Pueblo) elected to the United States Congress and here in North Dakota Ruth Buffalo became the first Native American Democrat woman to be elected to the North Dakota legislature. Indeed, this has been a positive year for Native American women.

Despite so many positive contributions being made by native women, 2018 also placed a spotlight upon the most vulnerable among us. The untimely and brutal deaths of Savanah Greywind and Olivia Lone Bear forced local, state and national attention to the fact that indigenous women are missing and murdered at rates far exceeding national averages and all too often justice alludes the families in such cases. Senator Heitkamp was an important partner and advocate for native women throughout her term of services as she champions important legislation such as Savanah’s Act and the Violence Against Women Act. It is imperative that we, as public servants, continue to champion such efforts to address systemic inequities, bridge gaps in our justice systems and support important legislative changes to safeguard our women, children and men.

Closer to home, I have served the Spirit Lake Tribe as Chairwoman for a total of 18 years. During my terms of office, I have seen many political legal and policy changes aimed at addressed issues and relationships with tribal communities. Such efforts have often focused on important issues such as community safety, child welfare and justice, Although some of the past laws, policies and programs have been good for our community, many have not. The Spirit Lake Tribe continues to face a number of pressing obstacles and challenges. Like so many communities in the state of North Dakota, the Spirit Lake Tribe has seen dramatic increases in methamphetamine and prescription drug abuse. Substance abuse has directly contributed to the higher than average rates of child abuse and neglect and resulted in an increase in violent crimes on the Spirit Lake Reservation. The Spirit Lake Tribe needs resources to intervene in the trafficking and possession of such substances and we also need the resources to rehabilitate those individuals facing addiction. Currently the Tribe is operating with a skeletal BIA law enforcement service, minimal mental health services and limited outpatient addiction treatment. To combat this public welfare crisis, we must seek out all resources to hold accountable those who bring these substances to our communities and to support measures that heal individuals and families impacted by addiction.

Economically the Spirit Lake Tribe has reinvested much of our governmental revenue into social programming, housing and economic diversification. Although housing and home ownership opportunities on the reservation remain out of reach for many, the Spirit Lake Tribal Council has worked to increase home ownership opportunities for members in part through the rehabilitation of existing homes. As part of this effort, employment and training opportunities have been provided for those in the construction trades and partnerships formed with Cankdeska Cikana Community College and have provided an important opportunity to develop a skilled labor force.

In addition to housing projects, we have recently completed renovations on a mini mall in Fort Totten. Historically the Spirit Lake Tribe has lacked local services and a small business sector resulting in much of our spending power has gone off the reservation. Today, through projects like the mini mall, the Spirit Lake Casino and Resort Grocery, the Spirit Lake Marina, and other such business ventures, we are able to offer opportunities for the growth of our small business sector, employment opportunities, and vital revenue streams for our government. All of these allow us to meet needs within our community.

Beyond the local work of the Spirit Lake Tribal Council, the Tribe has been working closely with Governor Burgum and the State Tax Commissioner to take a hard look at taxation, revenue sharing and opportunities for state and tribal collaboration. This renewed dialogue on regulatory matters is extremely important to ensure effective and consistent regulation, appropriate governmental revenue sharing, and support for tribal self-determination. Such efforts encourage economic development and provide important governmental revenue to help us as we attempt to address social and economic issues. The desire of the Governor to pursue collaborative agreements with the tribes has been instrumental to fostering mutual respect between our tribal nations and the state of North Dakota.

In closing I would offer that as tribes we must recognize our sovereignty as not only a shield against infringement but also a sword that carries with it the full weight to implement laws, develop essential policies, support social programming, develop culturally relevant services and enter into cooperative agreements that will meet the needs of our respective communities. It is important that we understand our sovereignty but it is equally important that we exercise it. As elected officials the people who put us into office count on us... they place their trust in us each and every day to make decisions and act in a manner that serves the greater good of our communities. Although my time in public service will soon come to an end, it is my sincere hope that our future tribal and state leaders will continue to engage in meaningful collaborations that build upon the foundation laid for them.
before this Joint Session of the Sixty-sixth Legislative Assembly of our great State.

The North Dakota Court System should be a well-balanced, dynamic and highly functioning system that is able to continuously improve and adjust to meet challenges in all economic conditions. We must operate to treat every individual, in every part of the state, with respect and to ensure that all of our cases move through the court system in a thoughtful and timely manner.

The scales of justice held by Lady Justice symbolize the assessment of the figurative weight, the balance, of two sides in a dispute, but over the 40 years I have been on the bench, I have come to see that they are also symbolic of the other balances the courts must strike. These include the big questions of balancing mercy and justice, community safety and individual accountability, and transparency of court records with individual desire for privacy; but they also include the more prosaic questions of balancing accuracy and expediency; efficiency of technology and the personal acknowledgement that all individuals crave; and deciding where the line should be drawn between state support of government functions and individual fees for access to government services. Although I have been privileged to consider these questions on an almost daily basis, I must admit that I am no closer to a definitive answer for any of them. I can, however, say with confidence, that the exercise has made me more aware of the nuances of each issue and more appreciative of the work all of you do in wrestling the same kinds of questions.

I am not going to wax philosophical on these issues, neither my voice nor your patience would allow me to do that for very long, but I will say that in some way each of these considerations plays out in the challenges and initiatives that I am going to discuss this morning.

Need for additional staffing

Last session, in response to serious budget issues, we cut 55.5 positions. Thirty-five full-time and 1 part-time staff were eliminated, including 3 judicial referees. Also lost were 20 temporary staff who differed from our other staff only in that they worked without the benefits allowed to those whose positions were created as an FTE authorization by the legislature. No part of the court system was spared from budget cuts and the staff reductions came from the supreme court, the district court, the juvenile court, and the administrative offices of the court. We understood the dire circumstances the state was in at that time and we did what we had to do to make the targeted budget reduction. But, it would not be honest of me, nor would I be doing my job as the head of the court system, if I stood here today and said that all is well with the court system.

I have often used the analogy of standing on tiptoe in deep water to describe the operational side of the courts. We have always staffed our judicial and administrative offices to the lowest possible ratio that allows us to get work done. However, doing so leaves us like the individual who wades into deep water and stands on his tiptoes to keep from drowning. Everything is fine until a wave comes along and suddenly the individual finds himself underwater and fighting for his life. The court system is now underwater. I am not here today to sound the death knell for the court system, or to ask for reinstatement of all 56 positions, but I am here to ask for help regaining our footing by adding back 6 staff positions and creating one new judgeship.

We are requesting a judge for the South Central Judicial District, which has its judicial hub in Bismarck and Mandan and encompasses 9 counties. Although there are normal fluctuations in the number of cases filed annually, the trend in this district has been a steady increase in filings over the past 10 years. The increase has been such that they are currently three judges short of what our weighted caseload study reveals is needed to adequately handle the caseload. We would have requested this judgeship much earlier except that there was no space to house another judge. I am grateful to the citizens of Burleigh and Morton counties, and to the commissioners who serve those counties, for the funding that has allowed both courthouses to remodel and expand space available for judicial chambers and courtrooms. And, while the judges of the district had assistance from their colleagues in other districts as well as surrogate judges assigned, I am grateful for the manner in which they handled the crush of cases resulting from the Dakota Access Pipeline protests.
A judge does not work alone. A record must be made of every hearing, so along with a new judicial position, we are asking for a court reporter position to work with the new judge. We are also asking for a court recorder position in Minot to replace the position that was cut in 2015. The Minot position is especially needed as the loss of a recorder has resulted in delayed hearings and increased transcript costs.

When we cut clerk of court staff in 2015, we did so by setting a minimum staffing level of 82% of need. Due to increased case filings, the clerk’s office in Grand Forks County is now operating at 70% of need and the Cass County office is at 60% of need. We are requesting one deputy clerk for each of those offices in order to bring them back to the minimum staffing level. Inadequate staffing results in increased errors.

Along with the three judicial referees that were cut in 2015, we cut four law clerk positions. Law clerks perform legal research, initial review of motions, and initial drafts of orders. These services allow judges to make better informed and quicker decisions. Due to the loss of positions, we have two judicial districts – the Northwest and Southeast districts - that no longer have any law clerks. To remedy this, we are requesting reinstatement of one law clerk position in each of these districts.

The North Dakota Judicial Conduct Commission and Attorney Disciplinary Board is the leanest -run disciplinary system in any state. It operates with just 4 FTEs and an army of volunteer attorneys and judges. Two years ago, we revamped the rules of operation for the JCCDB to increase the timeliness of responses to complaints. Part of this revamping included moving some of the investigative functions being done by volunteers to a part-time, temporary position housed within the JCCDB. This has not worked as well as we had hoped because of the turnover in that position. In eighteen months, there have been three people who have accepted the position, only to leave shortly afterward for other employment. The Operations Committee of the JCCDB has requested that this position be converted from a part-time temporary to a part-time permanent position to provide some stability to the position.

And, while I do not want to be an alarmist, we are closely watching a case that was remanded by the United States Supreme Court to the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals concerning the validity of the mandatory bar in North Dakota. Should the mandatory bar be held to be invalid, our current lawyer disciplinary system would require extensive statutory change.

The North Dakota Court System has not stopped innovating and striving to improve its ability to serve the people who depend on it to sort out the cases that come before it. North Dakota is unique in the cost-effective way we deliver clerk of court services, and our juvenile court approach to rehabilitating youth is hailed as a national model. Back in 1999, we were the first in the nation to have a fully electronic citation and traffic reporting system for tickets issued by the state patrol. In 2011, we became the first in the nation to have complete electronic filing capabilities for our district courts, and along with that, the first to mandate the use of electronic records management for both judges and staff. Beyond technology, we have created a family mediation program, a guardianship monitoring program, and a self-help center that assist thousands of citizens a year without imposing any extra fees for those services. We have strengthened protections for vulnerable adults and shortened the timeframe for decisions in child welfare cases and divorce cases involving children. In the same spirit of innovation, we are moving forward with several new projects.

Law Library Project
As much as I like books, it is time to re-envision our concept of a law library. Because so many resources are now available electronically and we have the ability to get books through quick shipping, we no longer need to maintain a large, formal library. We have put forward legislation to repeal the statutes requiring a law library. Our plan is to remodel the existing law library space to accommodate an expanded self-help center, improve the workspace for our central legal department, and relocate our IT staff to the Capitol. The initial outlay to remodel the space is estimated at $960,000, but we expect that these changes will result in ongoing savings of approximately $400,000 per biennium.
Juvenile Court
This past biennium, the juvenile court has instituted two new practices that have had a direct impact on the placement of children in detention. The first is to create disposition matrixes that provide more consistent sentencing for related charges and has reduced the number of youth being sent to the Youth Correctional Center.

The second is to mandate the use of a detention screening tool which has been effective in reducing the number of days youth are spending in detention.

In addition, we have been working with the Department of Human Services, the Division of Juvenile Services, and several other government and non-profit agencies on the dual status youth project. This is an interdisciplinary approach to handling youth who are in both the child welfare system and the court system. The project seeks to leverage resources from both entities to create a comprehensive plan to address the needs of children and their families.

During the interim session, the Juvenile Policy Board, under the leadership of Justice Lisa Fair McEvers, proposed raising the age of criminal responsibility from age 7 to age 10. The Justice Reinvestment Committee has introduced legislation to make that change.

Finally, I want to let you know that we have re-applied for the Court Improvement Program grant from the federal government. This grant is specifically to improve outcomes for children in need of protective services.

Guardianship
During the interim, our Guardianship Workgroup, which is ably chaired by Judge Cynthia Feland, took on the task of studying and rewriting the laws related to guardianship of minors to eliminate confusion over when cases should be filed in juvenile court or district court. Under the bill draft that we are proposing, only uncontested testamentary appointments will start in district court; all other guardianship of minor cases will be filed in juvenile court. This will give the court the ability to appoint a guardian ad litem for the child or an attorney for the parents. The proposed changes will also allow the court to continue monitoring the financial and personal well-being of any child who is under the care of a guardian.

Although not a court program, I bring your attention to the issue of adequate funding for the Public Administrator Support System (PASS) program. This is the program created by the legislature in 2013 to provide funding for public administrators. Over the years, public administrators have become the baby no one wants to hold. They serve as the guardians of last resort for those individuals who have no one else to look after them, or who are in the unfortunate position of having family members who are unable, unwilling or not qualified to provide guardianship services. Up until the early 1990s, public administrators were county employees, appointed by the county judge. When the county judge positions were eliminated, many counties also eliminated the public administrator position. Over the years, with no clear statutory determination as to whether the function should be funded by the counties or the state, there was a continual loss of individuals willing to take on those duties. To respond to the ever-growing gap between the need for services and the number of providers available, the legislature created the PASS program. Funding for the program has been in decline since its inception and the program has been forced to rewrite its guidelines several times to reduce the number of cases it can cover and lower the daily payment rate to guardians. An additional 5% cut to the PASS program is being proposed this biennium. With guardians having to take more cases without compensation, and a growing list of vulnerable adults waiting for assistance, I am afraid we are in danger of sliding back into the same situation we were in before the program was created.

Interdisciplinary Committee on Specialized Dockets
It has long been recognized that problem-solving courts, otherwise known as specialized docket, are very effective in dealing with issues related to drug and alcohol use, post-traumatic stress syndrome, homelessness, and mental illness for those people who are in the court system. Nationwide, there are now over 30 types of specialized docket, each with their own focus and funding. In North Dakota, we have three: adult drug court, juvenile drug court, and domestic violence court. Over the years, we have also been asked to consider adding mental health and veterans courts. Specialized dockets work because they allow for long-term, personal contact with defendants and because they are able to connect defendants with the resources, they need to rebuild a healthy life. We recognize that no one entity owns these courts and that to work they require assistance and support from all three branches of government. We recently adopted Administrative Rule 60 to establish an interdisciplinary committee whose focus will be on evaluating the need for the resources and legislation necessary to create new specialized dockets, to evaluate existing courts, and to recommend when and where new specialized dockets should be established.

Domestic Violence Court

In 2015, legislation was passed that authorized us to establish a domestic violence court. Under the direction of then-presiding judge Jon Jensen, the decision was made to move forward with a court in the Northeast Central Judicial District. Judges Jason McCarthy and Jay Knudson have been assigned to handle this specialized docket. The court held its first session in August and currently has 64 participants. Participants are individuals who have been convicted of a misdemeanor or felony assault against an intimate partner. The goals of the court include providing closer monitoring of offender compliance with sentencing conditions, and increasing victim safety by rehabilitating offenders and reducing the number of repeat offenses.

Justice Reinvestment

Judge Frank Racek, who serves as the presiding judge in the East Central Judicial District, has been serving on the Governor’s Committee on Justice Reinvestment.

Effective response to criminal behavior is an issue that he has studied extensively and he is well-positioned to lead in this arena. To implement the goals of justice reinvestment, he has worked with the Cass County Jail Administrator and the Cass County Commission to implement early identification of risks and needs using bail and pre-trial risk assessments. Due to a lack of resources, it has been necessary to limit these two pilot programs to cases assigned to Judge Racek, but even so, they show great promise and, I believe, will become a model for the rest of the state.

Judge Racek has also been working with both UND and NDSU to develop a medical approach to research-based sentencing that will use big data sets from multiple state information systems to create a system to address criminal justice needs with more speed and accuracy. The end goal is not to create a new program that will be cast as a wide-net, but instead create a system of rapid assessment that will allow for sentences based on the specific characteristics of defendants and their past responses to treatment and punishment.

Subcommittee on Bail and Pre-trial Reform

At the request of the Minority Justice Committee, we have established a subcommittee on bail and pre-trial reform. Many people forget that the primary reason for bail is to allow a defendant to secure release in order to aid in his or her own defense. Bail also acts as a lever to ensure that the defendant returns to court as required. Over the years, bail has also come to be seen as a means to provide for community safety by setting a high bail. However, there is a nationwide concern that people who cannot afford bail are being unnecessarily kept in jail. The subcommittee’s task will be to consider these uses of bail and to explore improvements to the processes and tools judges use to make pretrial release decisions. Pretrial release decisions include determinations by judges as to whether individuals arrested and detained should be released before trial, and the conditions that should be imposed if a defendant is released.

Conclusion

We also have in the works several other initiatives to increase efficiencies in both the Supreme Court and the district court. Some of these changes are in the planning stage and others are only in the initial discussion phase. It is too early to say whether they will have the outcomes we desire and I mention them only to assure you that despite our challenges, we strive to move forward to create a judicial system that is fair, timely, and accessible to all.
Thank you for the opportunity to appear before you to talk about our North Dakota judicial branch of government. I assure you of our continued cooperation with you in our common goal of keeping North Dakota one of the best places in the world to live. Best wishes for a positive and productive 66th legislative session.

2019 STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
The Honorable Doug Burgum
Governor of the State of North Dakota
January 3, 2019

Good afternoon! And thank you all for that warm welcome!

Lieutenant Governor Sanford --- Governor Schafer --- Mr. Speaker --- distinguished members of the 66th Legislative Assembly --- Chief Justice VandeWalle and justices of the Supreme Court --- fellow elected officials --- tribal leaders --- cabinet members --- First Lady Kathryn --- my children Joe, Jesse and Tom --- Second Lady Sandi --- family and friends --- fellow citizens of North Dakota --- welcome, and thank you all for joining us today.

It’s truly an honor for Brent, Kathryn and I to serve the citizens of North Dakota. We’re filled with gratitude every day for the opportunity to make a difference for our state and its citizens. As we enter this chamber, filled today with the three branches of government and leaders of our sovereign tribal nations, one can’t help but reflect on the incredible progress we have made --- and the unlimited potential that lies ahead when we all work together.

One hundred thirty years ago this coming November, President Benjamin Harrison signed North Dakota into statehood. That same year, George Eastman --- after buying 21 camera patents from David Houston of Hunter, North Dakota --- created a photography revolution with a flexible rolled film camera ---called Kodak.

North Dakota’s population was roughly 190,000 people. After growing rapidly to 680,000 people in 1930, our population shrank --- and did not break that record until 2011. Last year, our state grew by more than 4,900 people. That’s like adding 14 Arthurs in one year --- incredible! And the U.S. Census Bureau estimates our total population now surpasses 760,000 --- for the first time in state history.

It’s easy to understand why a scarcity mindset may still invade our thinking --- given that many of our citizens had direct experience with our decades of out-migration and rural depopulation --- and are subjected to constant claims that “things are getting worse.” The facts clearly show otherwise. Extreme global poverty has been cut in half over the last 20 years. Seventy-five percent of the world now lives in middle income countries. Global life expectancy is up to 72 years --- the highest it has ever been. Across the globe, we’ve seen dramatic decreases in deaths related to disease, war and natural disasters --- and dramatic increases in access to clean water and electricity, literacy, food production, internet access and immunizations. Abundance --- by nearly every measure --- is on the rise. Yes, the world is getting better and better --- and doing so at a rapid pace.

Why does this matter to North Dakota? For two reasons. First, a world with improving health and increasing incomes will consume more energy --- more food --- and more technology. The world will need more and more of what North Dakota has. Second, it matters in the context of the United States --- and North Dakota’s role in the world. As American citizens, we all are blessed with freedom of religion --- freedom of speech --- the right to assemble --- the right to own property --- and the right to bear arms. Each of our 50 states is a laboratory of democracy. We have an administration in D.C. that understands the states created the federal government --- not the other way around. And in North Dakota, we can choose our own destiny. Today, the State of the State is that we stand at the cusp of a new era in North Dakota’s history. And by harnessing the courage to dare greatly --- we will cultivate a prosperous future for generations to come. With action --- we will shine. We truly live in a state of abundance --- with the humility to understand that much of our good fortune is derived from our God-given natural resources --- namely our soil --- water --- coal --- wind --- gas --- and oil. Combining these resources with the power of human ingenuity has allowed us to build and grow a dynamic and increasingly diversified economy.

This private sector prosperity has allowed us to build and maintain a strong foundation in K-12 and higher education --- investing in our No. 1 resource --- the young people of North Dakota. Right now, we can make smart, bold investments with long-lasting impacts --- while delivering a fiscally conservative and structurally sound budget that improves transparency --- replenishes reserves --- and does this all without raising taxes! Yes, life is good here --- and yes, we can make it even better.

According to U.S. News and World Report, North Dakotans enjoy the best quality of life in the nation. The magazine said our small towns "promote a positive social environment --- in which people are not only supportive of one another --- but they are able to engage in their communities --- and feel that they are making a difference." The same applies to our bustling and growing urban areas. In North Dakota, everyone has a chance to make their mark --- to make a difference --- and to truly be legendary. We’ve been one of the five fastest-growing states percentage-wise since 2010 --- growing by 13 percent --- and we’re expected to retain our rank as the fourth-youngest state. Earlier this year we were ranked the best state for millennials, with our low unemployment --- affordable housing --- and nation-leading increase in wages since 2007. And North Dakota again made the list of 10 Best States to Start a Business.

Taxable sales and purchases for July, August and September were up 18 percent compared with the same period last year. That’s the highest year-over-year percentage increase since the third quarter of 2012. In fact, year-over-year taxable sales and purchases have increased every quarter since April 2017. Once again, North Dakota is on the grow. Our economy isn’t the only place where our health is improving --- North Dakota moved up five spots from No. 18 to No. 13 in this year’s America’s Health Rankings by United Health Foundation --- including ranking 1st in air quality. Our oil and gas producers continue to shatter production records. Daily output has increased to a record 1.39 million barrels per day in October --- strengthening our position as the nation’s No. 2 oil producer. We also produced a record amount of gas in October --- an incredible 2.56 billion cubic feet per day --- which is nearly double what we were producing in June of 2014. We rank 6th in overall energy production --- proving to the world that energy production and environmental stewardship aren’t mutually exclusive.

A good example is the intelligent Pipeline Integrity Program, or iPIPE --- a public-private partnership studying emerging technologies to detect and prevent pipeline leaks. Six projects have been funded so far, showing exciting and promising results. Again, this is happening because we believe innovation --- not regulation --- is the best way to solve complex challenges in a digital age.

Adding value to our enormous natural gas production is a tremendous opportunity. Converting gas to plastics or fertilizer --- using gas to heat commercial-scale greenhouses for year-round local food production --- converting gas to electrons to be exported on transmission lines --- or reinjecting gas back into the ground as part of enhanced oil recovery --- each of these represents a billion-dollar business opportunity. Substantial progress on gas capture is in our near future --- with billions of private capital being invested in midstream processing and gathering pipelines --- but more capacity will be needed as our gas-to-oil ratio continues to grow. And we must ensure our regulations incent --- versus discourage --- capital investment.

Our lignite industry continues to innovate and invest --- providing essential baseload electricity to the grid --- despite long-term economic and regulatory uncertainty created by over-reaching federal policy in the previous administration.

Project Tundra --- which aims to capture carbon dioxide that can be used to revitalize old oil wells --- was recently awarded the largest grant in the history of the Lignite Research Council, $15 million.

This partnership between the Energy and Environmental Research Center at UND --- lignite --- and the oil and gas industry --- is transforming power plant emissions to a marketable, value-added commodity.

Our agricultural producers --- who are among the best and most productive in the world --- continue to invest in new technology and precision farming and ranching approaches --- despite volatile prices and uncertainty with international markets.

It’s exciting to see evolving partnerships between industries adding value and developing new markets --- such as Marathon converting their Dickinson refinery to renewable biofuels and providing a huge new value-added market for North Dakota soybeans.

Advancing these core industries requires teamwork and collaboration. That’s why our budget proposal dedicates nearly $200 million for continued research in agriculture --- oil and gas --- and lignite.

Our farmers and ranchers can compete with anyone, anywhere --- if given a level playing field. For consistently providing this nation and the world with a low-cost, high-quality food supply --- they deserve our deepest gratitude.

We continue to make great progress on the five strategic initiatives outlined in this chamber two years ago. In 2017, we set out to transform education in North Dakota. Our goal: to ensure our K-12 and higher education systems are best equipped to adapt to new technologies and delivery methods --- and prepare students for success in the fast-changing digital economy. Two task forces created by executive order have published their final reports and recommendations --- outlining a bold path forward for K-12 innovative education --- and calling for stronger accountability and appropriate scale in higher education governance. On each of these 15-member task forces, legislative members service with distinction --- on the K-12 Innovative Education Task Force, Rep. Cindy Schreiber-Beck and Sen. Don Schaible --- and on the Task Force for Higher Education Governance, Rep. Mike Nathe and Shannon Roers Jones, and Senators Brad Bekkedahl and Joan Heckaman. --- Thank you for your service.

In addition, we supported establishing the K-12 Innovation Academy. This partnership --- between public entities and private philanthropy --- supplies concrete strategies for transforming education --- while also creating a statewide network to advance best practices and community-led initiatives.

We’ve also expanded opportunities for communication --- collaboration --- and meaningful engagement with each of the sovereign tribal nations within our borders. Our Indian Affairs Commission hosted two well-attended conferences this past year on strengthening government to government relationships and partnerships --- bringing together tribal leaders --- federal --- state --- and local officials. Thanks to the Legislature --- Lt. Gov. Sanford, Tax Commissioner Ryan Rauschenberger, Indian Affairs Executive Director Scott Davis and I had the unique opportunity to serve on the interim legislative Tribal Taxation Issues Committee --- which I was honored to chair. The committee had productive discussions with all of the tribes. As a result --- House and Senate leaders plan to co-sponsor legislation to allow the governor to enter into separate agreements with individual tribes --- to administer sales and use taxes and wholesale taxes on alcohol and tobacco. To have these bills co-sponsored by legislative leadership sends a strong --- and welcome signal --- of collaboration and improved relations. As we continue to engage with the tribes in discussions about oil and gas tax revenue distribution --- law enforcement --- behavioral health --- and other priorities, we will do so with mutual respect and the understanding that we are all North Dakotans.

In that spirit of mutual respect, we’re honored to announce that the Governor’s Office will begin to display the flags of the five tribal nations with whom we share geography --- alongside our state and national flags --- outside of the Governor's Office in Memorial Hall. As a state, we can reach our fullest potential only if all people have the opportunity to reach theirs.

Addiction and mental health issues also can keep us from reaching our fullest potential. Our state suffers from a behavioral health crisis, which carries significant negative impacts for our people --- our families --- and our economy. First Lady Kathryn has been an incredibly courageous leader in addressing head-on the disease of addiction --- with the goal of eliminating the shame and stigma of the disease of addiction so we can normalize the conversation like we do around any other chronic ---progressive --- and ultimately fatal disease. Her courage and example are inspiring others to share their stories --- to seek recovery --- and to celebrate its hope and power. Please join me in thanking her. With Kathryn’s leadership, we created the Office of Recovery Reinvented to promote these efforts with help from behavioral health professionals and community and tribal leaders. In October, more than 1,200 people attended our second annual Recovery Reinvented summit in person or online --- sharing best practices and further lifting the veil of shame and stigma. We’re also seeing progress with Free Through Recovery --- a program that provides effective, community-based behavioral health services to help those involved with the criminal justice system and struggling with addiction. This is a tangible outcome of last session’s collaborative justice reinvestment efforts --- led by members of the legislative, judicial and executive branches. By moving $7 million upstream last session, this Free Through Recovery partnership between the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation and the Department of Human Services has provided access to care coordination --- recovery services --- and peer support to over 500 people so far. One of those people is Jyssica Noble. Like many who become trapped by the disease of addiction, Jyssica’s struggles with opioid addiction landed her in jail --- left her homeless and --- brought her to the brink of death. Thanks to Cass County’s drug court program, she was referred to Free Through Recovery. When she relapsed, her peer support specialist --- care coordinator --- and probation officer helped her back on the road to recovery. As Jyssica told Kathryn and I in our recent face-to-face conversation --- she said, “These people cared, and I haven’t had that.” You can find Jyssica’s powerful story of recovery on our website --- and we’re happy to have her here with us today. Please join me in recognizing Jyssica for her courage and commitment. Justice reinvestment is just one great example of the power of reinventing government.

Citizens today expect government to safeguard their personal information and its financial assets from increasing cyberattacks --- while also providing a user-friendly digital experience. North Dakota can be a world-class leader in technology. Our goals include lowering costs ---improving cybersecurity --- and streamlining online services to improve the citizen experience across agencies --- and ensuring members of Team ND have the tools to do their jobs effectively and efficiently. To accomplish this, we’re creating a unified IT Shared Service organization. Already, we have aligned the backend systems of 31 state agencies, saving more than half a million dollars in product --- hosting costs --- and the number of staff it takes to do the work. But we still have over 400 organizations that touch our statewide network --- each responsible for their own cybersecurity --- a nearly impossible task that is full of risk. We’re calling for incremental investment of $16.4 million to centralize cybersecurity --- and help protect against approximately 5.6 million cyberattacks per month. We know that even one breach or financial attack by a bad actor could be far costlier. Our budget also calls for $174 million to fund 24 IT projects that will support 19 agencies and improve public safety --- citizen-government interactions --- and voting integrity. This is the critical infrastructure for an interconnected world --- and a necessary investment to protect our citizens’ data.

Communities representing more than half a million North Dakotans are engaged in one or more of the Main Street Initiative’s three pillars --- exploring what they can do to build healthy, vibrant communities --- with smart, efficient infrastructure --- to attract a 21st century workforce. Participation continues to grow, with 61 communities large and small engaged so far --- from Grand Forks to Williston --- and Regan to Robinson.

Those who have participated in one of our 45 Main Street listening sessions report positive results --- experiencing greater engagement from their community members --- and increased momentum on community projects. In the southwest, more than 150 community members took part in Helping Hettinger Day, a communitywide improvement project. In north-central North Dakota, Rugby high schoolers launched a video project highlighting the history and importance of their remaining downtown buildings --- building momentum for local improvement efforts. And in the southeast corner, Hankinson just renewed their Renaissance Zone --- and has 53 Renaissance Zone projects.

Based on input from our visits --- we’ve launched the Main Street Community Leaders Peer Network to share best practices and promote learning on MSI-related topics. And we’ve targeted federal block grant dollars to fund 15 projects totaling over $2.3 million for Main Street development --- public facilities --- and services. We will continue to provide tailored technical assistance --- share best practices --- and help communities empower and engage their youth and young leaders. In Grand Forks, which received one of our Main Street Excellence Awards, the Young Professionals group is leading the charge on Main Street.
Young people have been appointed to civic boards, and scholarships have been awarded to both high school and college students with Main Street ideas. Our first-ever Main Street Summit hosted more than 650 people last February, and we're already planning our second summit for Oct. 30-31 --- so save the date!

We've made great progress these first two years, but our journey has not been without its bumps. A perfect storm of circumstances tested our resolve during our first year in office ---- from protests --- to crashing commodity prices --- to historic drought --- to the stalled Fargo-Moorhead diversion project, now moving again after last week's permit from Minnesota --- to having to close the largest budget gap in state history. Thanks to the unbreakable spirit of our citizens --- the hard work of our state agencies --- and the foresight of our elected leaders to plan for a rainy day, our state is stronger than ever. That strength springs first and foremost from our North Dakota citizens --- and also from the courage of our elected officials who serve them at all levels of government --- including those newly elected legislators here today. For their dedication and willingness to serve --- would all 18 of our newly sworn-in legislators please stand and be recognized. Welcome to the Capitol!

Congratulations as well to our statewide elected officials who earned the opportunity to continue their outstanding service to our citizens: Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem --- Agriculture Commissioner Doug Goehring --- Secretary of State Al Jaeger --- Tax Commissioner Ryan Rauschenberger --- Public Service Commissioners Randy Christmann and Brian Kroushus --- and Supreme Court Justice Lisa Fair McEvers. We also congratulate our newly elected House leadership --- Rep. Pollert and Rep. Boschee --- and returning Senate leaders, Sen. Wardner and Sen. Heckaman. Thank you all for your past and future leadership in your respective chambers. We look forward to working with all of our leaders here in Bismarck --- across the state --- and in our nation's capital --- with Senator Hoeven, Senator Cramer and Congressman Armstrong --- to reach our fullest potential and make the most of our opportunity to Empower People, Improve Lives and Inspire Success.

Our state is ready to go to the next level because of the tremendous progress made in the last two years. Our forward-looking agenda is focused on solving our workforce challenges --- increasing accountability and budget transparency --- investing in our people --- and investing in our future. Our economy continues to grow, but workforce remains our Number 1 gating factor for economic growth. Now is the time to redouble efforts to equip our workforce with the skills needed to prosper in the digital economy.

We can start by dedicating $30 million in Legacy Fund earnings --- with a 1-to-1 match --- for career academies like the very successful collaborative between Bismarck Public Schools and Bismarck State College. Each day, nearly 1,400 high school and college students at the Career Academy are receiving quality education in high-wage, high-demand technical careers that align with post-secondary education. Students can choose pathways and earn scholarships in areas such as health science --- engineering--- electronics --- IT automotive technology --- aviation --- carpentry --- and agriculture. We need to copy this Career Academy model across our state. This is one time in education where we want everyone to know --- it's OK to plagiarize.

Great jobs that move our economy forward --- with less debt for students and families --- is a winning formula. Strategic investment into our higher education system will ensure our institutions are producing career-ready students and meeting market demands. Investing $40 million of Legacy Fund earnings into the successful and proven North Dakota Higher Education Challenge Fund --- which requires a 2-to-1 match from philanthropic sources --- will yield a total of $120 million for primarily scholarships but also endowed chairs and classroom instruction equipment.

Another key to solving our workforce shortage is making it easier for people from other states to transfer their skills to North Dakota. The state's Workforce Development Council --- revitalized last year --- recently delivered a report providing more than three dozen recommendations --- and identifying our current occupational licensing approach as one of many potential barriers. Today, we have over 80 licensed occupations in North Dakota --- governed by more than 60 boards, agencies and commissions.
Gov. Schafer asked the legislature in 1995 to join him to “refine, rethink and reinvent” the state’s myriad boards and commissions. We re-issue that invitation today. Consider this example: While an airman from the Minot Air Force Base was deployed to the Middle East, his wife wanted to become a registered dental assistant. She returned to her home state of California and completed a program there --- at a tuition cost of $16,000 --- earning her accreditation. When she returned to North Dakota to reunite with her husband after his deployment, she was advised that to become certified, she would need to take multiple national exams costing more than $700. After she completed those exams, she was informed that her California license wouldn’t be recognized --- and that to be recognized in North Dakota, she would have to retake the entire 10-month course --- without being able to transfer credits. The U.S. Department of Labor has awarded us a $450,000 grant to study the licensing system so we can remove unnecessary barriers. Building off the great work already done by the Legislature, this study will continue for the next three years --- with early work focusing on high-demand occupations. We’re pleased to see proposed legislation that would grant occupational licensing reciprocity to military spouses. Making North Dakota more military-friendly is key to solving our workforce shortage.

Our budget proposes a 100 percent state income tax exemption on military retirement pay to encourage more veterans to stay and work in North Dakota. We should thank our veterans for their service not only with our words --- but with our actions --- as they certainly have earned it. And let us always remember that since 9-11, we’ve had North Dakota National Guard members continuously deployed in harm’s way, defending our freedoms. I would ask that both our veterans and active duty servicemen and women please stand and be recognized.

For North Dakota to remain competitive and reach its fullest potential, we need robust and innovative institutions of higher education. Technologic and competitive forces are challenging the approaches --- practices --- and business models of higher education like at no time ever before in its history. The need for stronger governance boards --- with appropriate capacity to focus on the varied missions of our two-year, four-year, and research institutions --- is more apparent than ever. Our current single-board system of governance was created in 1938 --- when our entire system had less than 8,000 students. This one-board, eight-person model is woefully ill-matched in terms of board bandwidth to address the complex governance challenges at hand with 11 far-flung institutions --- more than 45,000 students --- and the explosion of competition and change from online and non-traditional education. Those who oppose the Higher Ed Task Force’s recommendation to thoughtfully consider a multi-board alternative simply because it creates additional boards --- should recall that our successful K-12 governance system includes 175 school boards with over 1,000 board members. I am entirely confident a multi-board model can be achieved with a zero-dollar fiscal note --- and paid for through realignment of resources at the institutions and system office --- and therefore it is not a line item in our budget. Many strengths of the current system will be retained, including common course numbering and credit transferability. And like today, appropriations would remain within the purview of the legislature. Stronger boards, with more mission focus, will lead to deeper accountability --- increased responsiveness --- and enhanced results from our institutions of higher learning.

State government as a whole also had to become stronger and more nimble as we confronted economic and budget downturns the past three years. Now is the time to increase budget accountability and transparency --- so we are prepared to meet the next challenge head-on. As we pledged two years ago, we have refined the revenue forecasting process with half a dozen changes to improve accuracy and ensure the most efficient use of taxpayer resources. We fulfilled another goal by using technology to make state spending more transparent online. Now, visitors to OMB’s website will find a more user-friendly experience --- with clear visual displays of budget data --- vendor contracts --- and other financial information about state government.

Our budget proposal also brings a new level of transparency to how oil tax revenues support our day-to-day operations. Instead of transferring oil tax revenues into the general fund from a labyrinth of sources, we’re proposing a direct $1 billion transfer to support general fund expenditures.
Our No. 1 priority was to restore structural balance in the general fund by bringing ongoing spending in line with ongoing revenues --- and living within our means. The last two budget cycles, we relied on transfers to cover substantial general fund revenue shortfalls. That's like drawing money out of your savings account to balance your checkbook --- not a sustainable way to manage finances. $1 billion is completely and easily doable. --- Why? Because this is the average amount of oil tax revenue transferred to the general fund over the past four bienniums. It's a conservative and sustainable amount --- even when oil prices crashed during the 2015-17 biennium, the state still collected $2.9 billion in oil tax revenue --- and we expect to collect close to $5 billion this biennium.

Being more transparent will improve our state's bond rating --- which lowers the interest rate for local political subdivisions who borrow through the state for infrastructure projects. It is also imperative that we replenish our reserves. Our budget transfers $315 million to help fill the Budget Stabilization Fund to its maximum level. Taxpayers --- and our most vulnerable citizens --- deserve this peace of mind.

Our team members in state government also deserve a higher level of financial security. That's why we’ve proposed an infusion of $265 million into the pension fund to help us close our $1 billion unfunded liability gap and save taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars down the road. Investing in team members’ salaries and health benefits also will ensure we can continue to attract and retain the talent state government needs to deliver the services our citizens expect.

Recognizing employees for outstanding performance is one of the true joys of this job. I’d like to recognize several of our Governor’s Award winners here today who exemplify the citizen-first focus of Team North Dakota. These employees have all gone above and beyond. So, Holly GOG-ler from the National Guard; Trooper Jenna Clawson HUE-brights; Gary Vetter and Chad GUM-ringer from ITD; Michelle GAY-et from Human Services; Jen INE-rem from DOT; and Carla Valentine, Holly Holt and Sarah Lee from our national award-winning Main Street Dashboard team, please stand and be recognized for excellence in public service. Thank you for all that you do --- and we'll keep pushing for a 4-and-2 percent salary increase, with room to go to 4-and-4.

Every North Dakotan deserves the opportunity to live a life of happiness and good health --- both physical and mental. To address our behavioral health crisis, we must invest significant resources in evidence-based and cost-effective programs. To that end, we’ve proposed spending more than $19 million across the continuum of care --- and increasing funding from $7 million to $11.5 million to expand Free Through Recovery services to those beyond the criminal justice system. Millions more for substance use voucher services and expanded treatment and programming in our corrections system will improve outcomes and help move people into the workforce and keep them working. Approaches to caring for the most vulnerable among us continue to evolve --- and we must evolve as well. We should invest more in home and community-based services for older adults and persons with physical disabilities and behavioral disorders, including addiction, mental illness and brain injury. While the recent trend has been toward community-based services and away from institutional services, we still need the latter to serve certain at-risk individuals --- and in doing so, we are committed to improving the quality of care. Building a new State Hospital and Clinic in Jamestown with $35 million from Legacy Fund earnings will not only achieve that goal --- but also allow us to repurpose the existing State Hospital as a minimum-custody correctional facility for men --- resulting in consolidated facilities and significant operational efficiencies.

We also have a responsibility to ensure that the men and women in our correctional facilities are receiving equal treatment --- and access to medical and rehabilitative services. Currently, a strong argument could be made that we are falling short in that endeavor. We believe the right thing to do for our female correctional residents – and taxpayers – is to relocate women’s prison services from New England to the Missouri River Correctional Center south of Bismarck.

Two years ago, I shared my strong belief that North Dakota’s schools can be the best in the world --- if we empower educators to lead the transformation of their classrooms and cut the red tape that stands in their way. We must promote policies that compensate our educators well --- and provide the incentives that help kindle the fires of curiosity and innovation. That’s why, in addition to a proposed 2-and-2 percent increase in the K-12 funding formula, helping to raise teacher salaries --- we propose up to $10 million to create the Teacher Incentives for Leadership in Education, or TILE, program. TILE would provide funding for professional development or leadership opportunities that advance district initiatives --- much like an extra duty contract. TILE is one of the key policy recommendations from the Innovative Education Task Force. We also know that funding isn’t enough --- we must redesign core elements such as graduation requirements, to support the cultivation of choice-ready students. We stand behind our educators in their work to develop our state’s most precious resource: our students.

Past governors and legislatures have established a legacy of strong investments in infrastructure. We aim to build on that legacy, proposing nearly $1.5 billion for roads --- essential water projects --- and airport infrastructure --- as well as the $174 million for technology investments. With the Legacy Fund, we have an opportunity to create a new kind of infrastructure legacy. Infrastructure is a top priority for our administration, and this is the largest piece of our plan for Legacy Fund earnings. By investing $55 million into an infrastructure revolving loan fund, we can leverage an estimated $370 million in borrowing power. Imagine --- a source of super low-interest loans for local political subdivisions to support everything from street paving and sewer replacement --- to flood control projects and water treatment plants. With an additional $25 million investment in the school construction revolving loan fund --- leveraging $165 million --- we can drive a total of $535 million in construction. Our communities will benefit for generations to come.

At the same time, we must continue efforts to diversify our economy --- embracing emerging technology such as unmanned aircraft systems, or UAS. With the Northern Plains UAS Test Site and Grand Sky technology park in Grand Forks, we’re already positioned as a national leader in UAS development. It’s why the federal government chose North Dakota as one of 10 sites nationwide for its pilot project to determine how best to incorporate UAS into the national airspace. By investing $30 million in a statewide UAS infrastructure network, we can cement our status as a proving ground for UAS. This air traffic control system for drones flying beyond line of sight will also support commercial operations --- including automated farming --- precision agriculture --- and monitoring of essential energy infrastructure such as pipelines and transmission lines.

Now, to the legislators here today, I ask you to envision --- in a few short years, sitting at the ribbon-cutting for the new Theodore Roosevelt Presidential Library and Museum at the entrance to Theodore Roosevelt National Park. You will have become a part of history --- a member of the 66th Legislative Assembly whose actions made that day possible. Getting ready to listen to remarks from four or five living U.S. presidents honoring the incredible life and legacy of one of our nation’s greatest leaders. As proposed, the $50 million in Legacy Fund earnings for the library and museum is a 2-to-1 match. Meaning every dollar will be matched by two dollars from other sources, such as federal, foundation, local or individual private donor dollars. Challenge grants like this can spur decisive action from donors --- and enable faster and larger commitments of resources from partners and collaborators. Already, this proposal has received statements of support from the Theodore Roosevelt Conservation Partnership --- the National Trust for Historic Preservation --- and Theodore Roosevelt V, the president’s great-great grandson. Also pledging their support for the project are the National Park Service --- the Theodore Roosevelt Association --- the National Park Foundation --- and Theodore Roosevelt National Park. That is why, given the timing with the strong support from this federal administration, we urge the Legislature to take up the work on this proposal without delay. Swift passage will send a powerful message to all potential partners that the North Dakota Legislature understands both the lasting significance of this project --- and that the opportunity window for capturing this coveted prize for North Dakota is open right now. The TR Library and Museum meets all of the criteria we set forth for Legacy Fund projects. It will have regional, state and national impact. It can be leveraged with partnerships to expand the impact of Legacy earnings. And it sets North Dakota apart --- while creating positive impacts for our economy and workforce. This --- and all of our Legacy Fund proposals --- will have lasting impacts beyond our current generation. Roosevelt’s vision for America was, in his own words, not “a life of ignoble ease” --- but rather the pursuit of a “strenuous life.” A life built upon sweat and toil --- and the courage to be in the arena, versus a critic on the sidelines. The strenuous life is what stitched the cultural fabric of North Dakota.

From the strong and lasting cultures of the indigenous tribes whose lands and sovereign nations coexist within our borders --- to the earliest immigrant pioneers who settled here. Regardless of our background, how we view ourselves determines much of our path in life. If our heads are filled with self-defeating talk, our life paths will reflect this. The same applies to us as a state --- and especially to our roles as elected leaders. If we see ourselves and our state as too small --- too distant --- and too cold --- we will fall short of our potential. We must continually remind ourselves that being a North Dakotan is a choice --- a powerful and compelling choice. A choice open to anyone who shares the spirit of self-reliance and self-respect --- who feels the connection to our land and water and wildlife --- who lives with the daring spirit of a pioneer. Who embraces challenges and hardship --- who builds trust and community --- who lives with gratitude for our many blessings. As our recently departed former President George H.W. Bush said, “Be bold in your caring --- be bold in your dreaming --- and above all else, always do your best.” This Sunday, January 6th, marks the 100th anniversary of the passing of Theodore Roosevelt. By immersing himself in the rugged, beautiful and untamed Badlands, he transformed himself into a bold and fearless leader --- whose later actions transformed our nation and our world. As we stand at the cusp of this new era, let us seize this opportunity for North Dakota to transform our image of ourselves --- to reach beyond any doubts and self-imposed limitations. Now is the time to dream bold dreams --- to build those dreams --- and to create lasting legacies.

Thank you. May God bless you --- the United States of America --- and the Great State of North Dakota.

MOTION

REP. LOUSER MOVED that the remarks of Governor Burgum be printed in the journal, which motion prevailed.

SECTION 4. TRANSFERS. Notwithstanding section 54-16-05, the director of the office of management and budget shall transfer appropriation authority between line items of the legislative management and legislative council as may be requested by the chairman of the legislative management or the director of the legislative council upon the finding by the chairman or the director that the nature of studies and duties assigned to the legislative management or legislative council requires the transfers in properly carrying on the legislative management's and legislative council's functions and duties. The director of the office of management and budget shall similarly make transfers of appropriation authority between the line items for the sixty-sixth and sixty-seventh legislative assemblies, upon request by the chairman of the legislative management or the director of the legislative council upon the finding by the chairman or director that the transfers are required for the legislative assembly to carry on its functions and duties.
SECTION 5. APPLICATION, TRANSFER AUTHORITY, AND CANCELLATION OF UNEXPENDED APPROPRIATIONS. Sections 54-16-04 and 54-44.1-11 do not apply to chapter 26 of the 2017 Session Laws. The office of management and budget shall cancel unexpended appropriations for the legislative assembly and legislative council enacted prior to the 2017-19 biennium as directed by the chairman of the legislative management or the director of the legislative council.

SECTION 6. AMENDMENT. Section 54-03-20 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

54-03-20. Compensation and expense reimbursement of members of the legislative assembly.

1. Each member of the legislative assembly is entitled to receive as compensation for services the sum of one hundred seventy-eight-one dollars for each calendar day during any organizational, special, or regular legislative session and for each day that member attends a meeting of a legislative committee between the organizational session and the regular session as authorized by legislative rule.

2. a. Each member of the legislative assembly is entitled to receive reimbursement for lodging, which may not exceed per calendar month the amount established under this subdivision by the director of the office of management and budget for lodging in state and which may not exceed the rate provided in section 44-08-04 for each calendar day during the period of any organizational, special, or regular session. On August first of each even-numbered year, the director of the office of management and budget shall set the maximum monthly reimbursement for the subsequent two-year period at an amount equal to thirty times seventy percent of the daily lodging reimbursement in effect on that date as provided under subdivision d of subsection 2 of section 44-08-04.

b. Notwithstanding subdivision a:

(1) A member of the legislative assembly may elect to be reimbursed for less than the amount to which the legislator is entitled under this subsection by claiming the lesser amount on a voucher submitted with the receipt required by section 44-08-04.

2. Enter upon public or private property for the purpose of taking action authorized by this section, including obtaining information from any person who has a duty to provide the information under section 23.1-37-10, conducting surveys and investigations, and taking corrective action.

23.1-37-12. Responsibility for cost. The owner or operator is liable for the cost of the corrective action required by the department, including the cost of investigating the releases. This chapter does not create any new cause of action for damages on behalf of third parties for release of petroleum products against the fund or licensed dealers.

23.1-37-13. Liability avoided. No owner or operator may avoid liability by means of a conveyance of any right, title, or interest in real property or by any indemnification, hold harmless agreement, or similar agreement. However, this chapter does not:

1. Prohibit a person who may be liable from entering into an agreement by which the person is insured or is a member of a risk retention group, and is thereby indemnified for part or all of the liability;

2. Prohibit the enforcement of an insurance, hold harmless, or indemnification agreement; or

3. Bar a claim for relief brought by a person who may be liable or by an insurer or guarantor, whether by right of subrogation or otherwise.

23.1-37-14. Other remedies. This chapter does not limit the powers of the administrator or department, or preclude the pursuit of any other administrative, civil, injunctive, or criminal remedies by the administrator or department or any other person. Administrative remedies need not be exhausted in order to proceed under this chapter. The remedies provided by this chapter are in addition to those provided under existing statutory or common law.

23.1-37-15. Revenue to the fund. Revenue from the following sources must be deposited in the state treasury and credited to the fund:

1. Any registration fees collected under section 23.1-37-17;

2. Any money recovered by the fund under section 23.1-37-23, and any money paid under an agreement, stipulation, or settlement;

3. Any interest attributable to investment of money in the fund; and
4. Any money received by the administrator department in the form of gifts, grants, reimbursements, or appropriations from any source intended to be used for the purposes of the fund.

A tank owner violating section 23.1-37-17 is guilty of a class B misdemeanor unless another penalty is specifically provided.

23.1-37-17. Registration fee.

1. An owner or operator of a tank shall pay an annual registration fee of fifty dollars for each aboveground or underground tank owned or operated by that person. If after the fiscal year has been closed and all expenses relating to the fiscal year have been accounted for, the fund balance is less than six million dollars, the annual registration fee of fifty dollars is increased to one hundred dollars. If after the fiscal year has been closed and all expenses relating to the fiscal year have been accounted for, the fund balance is five million five hundred thousand dollars or more and the annual registration fee has been increased to one hundred dollars, the fee must be reduced to fifty dollars. If after the fiscal year has been closed and all expenses relating to the fiscal year have been accounted for, the fund balance exceeds nine million dollars, the annual registration fee is reduced to five dollars. Annual registration fees must continue at five dollars until the fund balance does not exceed nine million dollars.

2. An owner or operator of an existing tank that is discovered at a location that currently and previously has had tanks registered with the fund shall pay an additional twenty-five dollar penalty fee in addition to the registration fee for each aboveground tank and each underground tank owned or operated by that person for each previous year that the tank was required to be registered for which a fee was not paid. The payment includes the fees and the penalty for the failure to register.

3. An owner or operator of an existing tank at a location that was not previously and continuously registered with the fund, whether the registration was required by law or not must provide the fund with a phase two environmental study conducted by a qualified firm according to American society for testing materials standards. A tank integrity test must also be performed. The environmental study and tank integrity test must be reviewed by the commissioner department along with the application for registration with the fund. If the commissioner department rejects the application, the applicant is denied eligibility to the fund. However, if the site is remediated and the leaking tank is replaced, the applicant may reapply for registration with the fund. A new installation that is using a used tank must provide tank integrity test results for the used tank. Use of a synthetic liner in an aboveground dike system negates the need for a tank integrity test. The owner or operator of a new tank at a new site or a new tank at an existing site that had a tank registered at the site previously need only pay the required fees for registration with the fund.

4. If accepted for registration with the fund, the owner or operator of the tank shall pay an additional twenty-five dollar penalty fee in addition to the registration fee for each aboveground tank and underground tank owned or operated by that person for each previous year that the tank was required to be registered for which a fee was not paid, regardless of ownership in each of those years. The payment includes the fees and the penalty for the failure to register.

5. The registration fees collected under this section must be paid to the fund-Administrator department for deposit in the state treasury for the dedicated credit to the petroleum release compensation fund.

6. If a registration payment is not received within sixty days of July first by the Commissioner department, a late fee of twenty-five dollars per tank per month must be imposed on the tank owner or operator.

1. The administrator department shall reimburse an eligible owner or operator for ninety percent of the costs of corrective action, including the investigation, which are greater than five thousand dollars and less than one million dollars per occurrence and two million dollars in the aggregate. An eligible tank owner or operator may not be liable for more than twenty thousand dollars out-of-pocket expenses for any one release. A reimbursement may not be made unless the administrator department determines that:

   a. At the time the release was discovered the owner or operator and the tank were in compliance with state and federal rules and rules applicable to the tank, including rules relating to financial responsibility, rules relating to infrastructure compatibility, and all rules relating to health and safety which were in effect at the time of the release;

   b. The department was given notice of the release as required by federal and state law;

   c. The owner or operator has paid the first five thousand dollars of the cost of corrective action; and

   d. The owner or operator, to the extent possible, fully cooperated with the department and the administrator in responding to the release.

2. The fund shall compensate third parties for corrective action taken for a petroleum release if the provisions of subdivisions a, b, c, and d of subsection 1 were met at the time the release was discovered. Compensation for third-party corrective action includes compensation for costs incurred in returning the real estate to that level deemed duly remediated by the department.

3. The fund shall reimburse the tank owner, operator, or dealer for bodily injuries to a third party caused by a petroleum release if the provisions of subdivisions a, b, c, and d of subsection 1 were met at the time the release was discovered in an amount determined by:

   a. Findings reduced to judgment in federal or state district court within the state of North Dakota or such other court having jurisdiction over the matter in a proceeding in which the fund has been made a party;

   b. Findings by an arbitration panel agreed upon in writing by the parties in a proceeding in which the fund has been made a party; or

   c. A written settlement entered into by the parties in which the commissioner director of the department or the commissioner's department's agent has participated. The settlement must be reviewed and approved by the commissioner director of the department.

4. In any civil action against the owner, operator, or dealer for damages resulting from a petroleum release, if the pre-leak condition of real estate is an issue and if there is no reasonable means of determining the pre-leak condition of real estate, the condition is that which exists at the time the department determines the real estate has been duly remediated.

5. The fund may not compensate for attorney's fees of owners, operators, or dealers, nor may the fund compensate for exemplary damages, criminal fines, or administrative penalties.

6. A third party accepting monetary compensation directly from the fund for damages due to a release caused by a tank owner, operator, or dealer covered by the fund is deemed to have waived any cause of action against the fund or against the tank owner, operator, or dealer.

7. The fund shall reimburse the department for all costs, attorney's fees, and other legal expenses relating to administrative and adjudicative proceedings under this chapter and any subsequent legal proceeding. Any monies reimbursed must be deposited in the department's operating fund in the state treasury and must be spent subject to appropriation by the legislative assembly.

23.1-37-19. Application for reimbursement.

Any owner or operator who is a first-party claimant who proposes to take corrective action or has undertaken corrective action in response to a release, the time of such release being unknown, may apply to the administrator department for partial or full reimbursement under section 23.1-37-18. An owner or operator who is a first-party claimant may be reimbursed only for costs incurred after July 1, 1989, even if the releases were discovered before July 1, 1989, up to the maximum of twenty-five thousand dollars per location.

23.1-37-20. Administrator Department to determine costs.

A reimbursement for corrective actions taken by an owner, operator, or dealer may not be made from the fund until the administrator department has determined that the costs for which reimbursement is requested were actually incurred and were reasonable. All necessary loss adjustment expenses must be included as a component of the loss and must be paid out of the fund.

23.1-37-21. Liability of responsible person. The right to apply for reimbursement and the receipt of reimbursement does not limit the liability of an owner or operator for damages or costs incurred as the result of a release.

23.1-37-22. Reimbursement not subject to attachment.

The amount of reimbursement to be paid for corrective action that was done by a third party is not subject to legal process or attachment if actually paid to a third party who performed the corrective action.

23.1-37-23.1. Recovery of expenses.

Any reasonable and necessary expenses incurred by the fund, which exceed the coverage limits provided by section 23.1-37-18, in taking a corrective action, including costs of investigating a release, and in taking legal actions may be recovered in a civil action in district court brought by the administrator department against an owner or operator. The certification of expenses by an approved agent of the fund is prima facie evidence that the expenses are reasonable and necessary. Any expenses that are recovered under this section must be deposited in the fund.

23.1-37-24. Costs exceeding reimbursement.

If the cost of any extraordinary authorized action under this chapter exceeds amounts awarded to the administrator department from the federal government, the administrator department may pay the department's the cost of the corrective actions costs, including the cost of investigating a release, if the board finds that the cause was a petroleum substance, that an adequate amount exists in the fund to pay for the corrective action, that the occurrence was extraordinary in scope and size, and that a danger to the health and safety of citizens exists.

23.1-37-25. Coordination of benefits.

If an owner or operator has an insurance policy that provides the same coverage as the fund, the administrator of the fund department shall pay the share of the covered loss or damage for which the fund is responsible. The share that must be paid from the fund is equal to the proportion that the applicable limit of coverage under the fund bears to the limits of insurance of all insurance coverage on the same basis.

23.1-37-26. Third-party damages - Participation in actions and review of settlements.

1. An owner or operator who is sued for damages resulting from a release shall notify the administrator department within fourteen days of being served with a summons and complaint. The owner or operator shall also advise the administrator department if any insurer is defending the owner or operator and provide to the administrator the name of that insurer.

2. An owner or operator who, before litigation, enters into negotiations with a third party who claims to have been damaged by a release, or who receives a demand for payment of damages to a third party who claims to have been damaged by a release, shall notify the administrator within fourteen days of the demand or the negotiations.

3. The administrator and the board shall review the conduct of any litigation or negotiation. The administrator may not assume any legal costs incurred by the defendant or plaintiff, but may participate in discovery, trial proceedings, or settlement negotiations of either disputed liability or damages that bear on the determination of a plaintiff's damages.

4. The administrator and the board shall review any settlement negotiations to determine the dollar amount of bodily injury or property damage actually, necessarily, and reasonably incurred by third parties which, if paid by the defendant, would be considered eligible costs.

1. An applicant's payments for third-party damages pursuant to a judgment entered in a court must include copies of the notice of entry of judgment and abstract of costs.

2. An applicant's payments for third-party damages made by agreement in settlement of litigation must include copies of the settlement agreement and such supporting documents as may be required by the administrator.

3. An applicant's payments for third-party damages made by agreement without reference to litigation must include copies of the settlement and such supporting documents as may be required by the administrator.

4. The administrator and the board may require a third party who claims bodily injury to be examined by a physician and require that the physician's report be submitted to the administrator. The administrator may require a third party who claims property damage to permit a property appraiser or claims adjuster retained by the administrator to inspect the property and report to the administrator.

5. The fund shall pay a judgment against an owner, operator, or dealer awarded to a third party as a result of a third-party claim and property damage against an owner, operator, or dealer registered by the fund.

6. The fund shall pay for corrective action as awarded to a third party in any judgment against an owner, operator, or dealer.

7. Liability of the tank owner, operator, dealer, or fund to third parties for corrective action or personal injuries and property damage may not exceed, per person, one million dollars. Maximum liability of the fund, including all claims by third parties, may not exceed, for any release site, the maximum provided in section 23.1-37-18.

8. A third party may not bring an action against any owner, operator, or dealer more than three years after a corrective action plan has been approved by the department if the owner, operator, or dealer fully implements and complies with the corrective action plan.

9. In investigating a release site or reviewing the implementation of any corrective action plan approved by the department, the department shall determine whether the release currently threatens public health or the environment. The department shall require, based on science and technology appropriate for the site, any monitoring, remediation, or other appropriate corrective action that is reasonably necessary to protect public health or the environment. The department may require corrective action at a release site at any time after a release occurs.

The administrator and the board may annually allow the department a ten percent matching grant for federal leaking underground storage tank funds to be paid out of the fund if the moneys are available and the administrator and the board determine the allowance appropriate.

Money in the fund is continuously appropriated to the administrator for the purpose of making reimbursements under this chapter.

Investment of the fund is under the supervision of the state investment board in accordance with chapter 21-10. The commissioner may purchase a contract for reinsurance of any risk to be paid by the fund. The administrator may investigate the purchase of insurance that reimburses an owner or operator for property damage claims by third parties other than claims for costs of corrective action.

SECTION 19. AMENDMENT. Section 54-52.1-18 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

54-52.1-18. High-deductible health plan alternative with health savings account option.

The high-deductible health plan alternative with a health savings account must be made available to state employees by January 1, 2012. After June 30, 2015, at the board's discretion, the high-deductible health plan alternative may be offered to political subdivisions for coverage of political subdivision employees. If a political subdivision elects this high-deductible option the political subdivision may not offer the plan under section 54-52.1-02.

2. Health savings account fees for participating state employees must be paid by the employer.

   a. Except as provided in subdivision b, subject to the limits of section 223(b) of the Internal Revenue Code [26 U.S.C. 223(b)], the difference between the cost of the respective non-grandfathered single and family premium for eligible state employees under section 54-52.1-06 and the premium for those employees electing to participate under the high-deductible health plan under this section must be deposited in a health savings account for the benefit of each participating employee.

   b. If the public employees retirement system is unable to establish a health savings account due to the employee's ineligibility under federal or state law or due to failure of the employee to provide necessary information in order to establish the account, the system is not responsible for depositing the health savings account contribution. The member will remain a participant in the high-deductible health plan regardless of whether a health savings account is established.

   c. If a member closes the health savings account established for that member under this section, the system is not responsible for depositing the health savings account contribution after that closure.

3. Each new state employee must be provided the opportunity to elect the high-deductible health plan alternative. At least once each biennium, the board shall provide an open enrollment period allowing existing state employees or a political subdivision to change their coverage.

2. The governor has identified projects or initiatives which will generate efficiency and cost savings for the state, equal to at least ten percent of the amount transferred.

3. Any general fund savings amount will be turned back to the general fund at the end of the biennium.
